HENRIK CREUTZ

Landowner, organic farmer

Owner of Malmgård Estate in

Loviisa, Finland

President of Finnish Landowners

Master of Political Sciences

Married, two children

Background

I was born in Helsinki in January 1974 and lived my early school years in Finland, Switzerland, United Kingdom, Germany and Sweden. I speak Swedish at home and Finnish at work. I also speak English and German. I've received a Master's degree in Political Sciences at Åbo Akademi University in Turku, Finland.

In 2007 I took over the family estate of Malmgård together with my brother. In 2009 we founded Malmgård Brewery, which is a micro-brewery producing beers using cereals from the estate.

I'm today the CEO and manager of Malmgård Estate. Our activities at Malmgård consists of organic farming, forestry, tourism and cereal production for retail, restaurants and bulk sales.

I'm also the present president of the Finnish Landowners' Organization. The Finnish Landowners are members EHH and ELO. The Finnish Landowners' Organisation was established in 1945 to safeguard the interests of private landowners and rural businesses. Due to the increasing interest in old farm and estate buildings, a section for historical houses was established in 1997 within the Finnish Landowners. We see the protection of historical houses in the country side as a way of also safeguarding business opportunities for future generations.

Henrik Creutz (II)

Malmgård Estate

Malmgård Estate dates back to the early 17th century and has now been 13 generations in the Creutz family. The manor has a unique history by Finnish standards; the name of the owners has been Creutz since 1614. The current owners, the Count brothers Henrik and Fredrik Creutz and their families, represent the 13th generation of owners of Malmgård Estate.

The manor house at Malmgård Estate was built in 1885. The two-storey building has elements of northern French renaissance and the main building material is uncovered brick. The interiors are represented in various historical styles with sumptuous wall and ceiling paintings.

The English inspired gardens were partially set up in line with drawings from 1884. Several farm buildings dating back to the late 18th century.

In 1995 Malmgård became one of the first certified organic farms in Finland. Today, the Malmgård Estate specializes in organic farming, local foods, tourism and beer brewing. Forestry and hunting have also been an important part of the estate.

THE ESTATE FARM SHOP – Open around the year with organically cultivated cereal products in different forms.

TOUR OF THE MANOR HOUSE – The manor house of Malmgård is a private home and welcomes visiting pre-booked visitors from May through September.

THE CAFÉ & PUB – Bookings can be made for special occasions throughout the year. Also accommodates meetings and conferences.

THE BREWERY – Open for beer tastings around the year with ales and cider Malmgård Brewery.

New push

- Your Excom has decided to increase our push for new members to increase our political visibility and our lobbying capacities
- A strong push will be towards the countries where we are not yet present which are mostly many of the former communist countries in Central and Eastern Europe.
- Dana Beldiman will be in charge and our action will be twofold: help in the understanding of the interest to have a private historic houses Association and help in setting them up. All new Associations will be granted a two year “observer” status within EHH with no membership payment
- As the restitutions were handled in a very different way in many of those countries your Excom has decided to propose the following membership options:
 - Associations which will have a majority of private historic houses: propose an “adherent membership” (with no voting rights) and with no payment of membership fees for 2 years. Both sides would then need to agree to become an ordinary member with voting rights and membership payment after two years
 - Associations which will have a minority of private historic houses: they could join as “affiliated members” (with no voting right) and with no payment of membership fees for 2 years. Both sides would need to agree that they could remain as “affiliated members” with no voting rights but pay a special fee

Schlösser und Gärten in Deutschland e.V. (SGD):

Palaces, gardens and comparable historical monuments occupy a prominent place in Germany's national cultural heritage and attract more than 60 million visitors every year. The Verein Schlösser und Gärten in Deutschland e.V. (Association of Palaces and Gardens in Germany) was founded in Berlin in March 2012. Currently the association has 55 full members as well as supporting members from all over Germany.

The purpose of the association, which has its headquarters in Berlin, is to promote the care and preservation of palaces, gardens and comparable historical monuments in Germany, whether they are state, municipal or private. At the same time, the preservation of historical monuments, museum and cultural-political concerns and the associated promotion of art, culture and education are taken into account.

The primary objectives are to increase public awareness of the necessity of preserving the buildings and gardens and to promote the continuous care, scientific research and public communication of the palaces, castles, monasteries and gardens and comparable historical monuments as important cultural testimonies. An essential part of the association's work is to focus the public perception of the diverse palace and garden landscapes in Germany more strongly and to draw more attention to the broad cultural offerings of the respective institutions. By developing joint offers and supraregional measures and projects, the association is also committed to improve tourism services and infrastructure and to create tourism networks.

Romania (Pro Patrimonio)

For twenty years the Foundation Pro Patrimonio Foundation has been at the service of Romanian heritage and dedicated to its survival and revitalization in society. Two branches support it in France and England. She is totally independent.

Heritage + Education + Revitalization of communities, an indissoluble link.

- In collaboration with the Uipath Foundation, an important educational and cultural project dedicated to the children of the Mihaileni region in Moldova, is underway from the childhood home of Georges Enesco, owned by Pro Patrimonio which it saved from ruin.
- The Foundation is restoring another of its properties, the manor of Olari, in the southern plain, also in ruins, one of the few that remains in this area and which gradually comes back to life with school building sites and from the year onwards next the program with the Uipath Foundation.
- Two other properties, in Viscri and Campulung Muscel, have been restored and serve as a place of cultural dissemination and provide tourist income.
- The emergency restoration program of "60 Wooden Churches" which was included in the list of "Most endangered monuments" by Europa Nostra has enabled us to intervene in around 25 churches and is still ongoing.
- For 13 years with the French "Compagnons du Devoir and the Tour de France", we have been pursuing a training project for building trades and our goal is to set up a training center according to their teaching methods. The project is currently under study.

All these projects have benefited from the help of a large number of volunteers and the best professionals. Without them and its donors, the Pro Patrimonio Foundation could not carry out its projects.

NEXT GENERATION

NEXT GENERATION FIRST BOARD MEETING

NEXT GENERATION CONFERENCE 2021

Conference 2020 was previously postponed to April 2021. We now consider that there is too much uncertainty to organise a physical conference.

We therefore propose a hybrid model which will support national associations in developing their groups, provide an opportunity for the next generations to meet nationally and discuss pressing issues, whilst retaining the sense of an international event also.

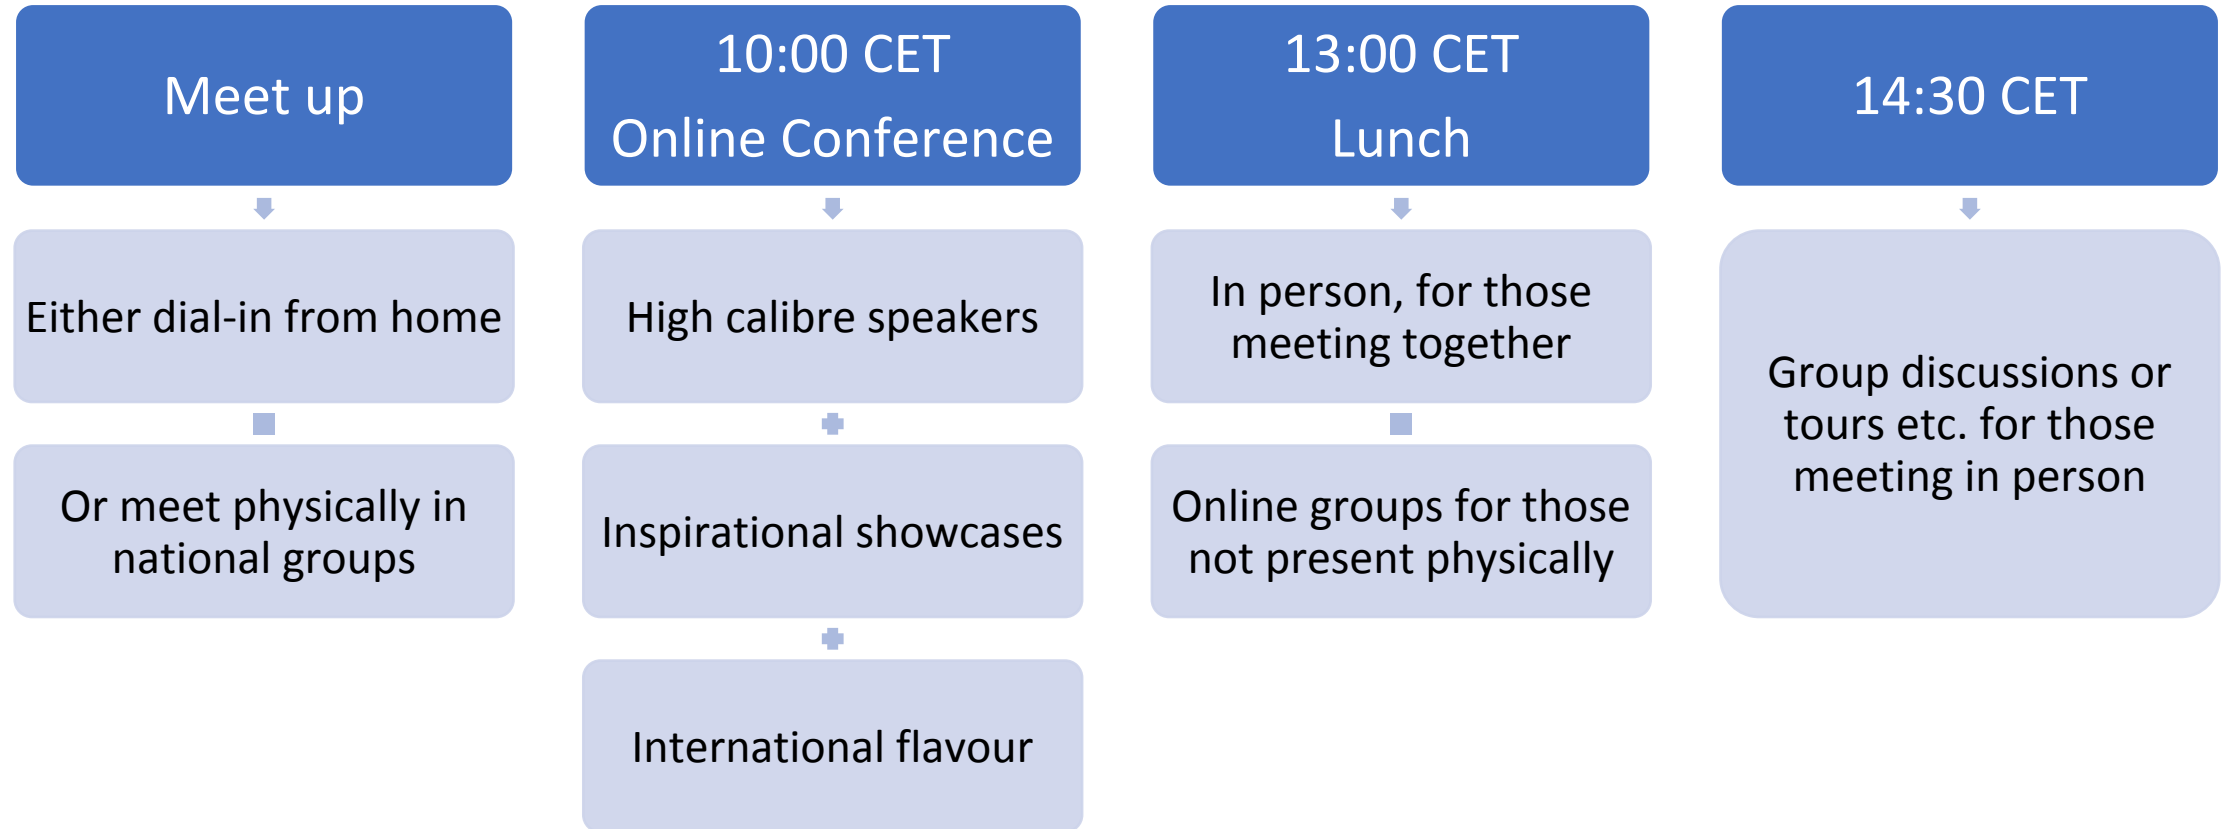

An international conference will take place online on the morning of 24 April 2021. Anyone that is a member of EHH NextGen will be able to dial in (for free).

On the same date, we propose that NextGen groups also plan to meet physically on a national or regional basis, depending on what is possible under local regulations in their country/province etc.

Then following the international discussion (in which all will be a part), the national groups meeting physically can take the opportunity to continue the discussion, bringing it to a more locally relevant level, to find solutions to pressing issues.

If there is an appetite, we can also arrange for online 'chats' for those that are not physically able to meet.

How it works

Meeting notes and summaries can be shared after the meeting, both from national and international groups

NEXT GENERATION MEMBERSHIP LAUNCH

The NextGen website is now ready for launch at the end of November.

Membership will be free for the first year, if purchased before January 31st 2021

Membership will cost €20 thereafter to cover the cost of membership administration.

The website will initially provide:

Forums – to enable sharing of experiences, challenges and successes with peers.

Events listings – promote events (both our own or those of national associations, and also external events of interest to members generally)

Information and support - A highly effective support network with knowledge base from members and sponsors

In time we see wider opportunities for cross-border collaboration e.g.:

Promotion of artisanal products, tourism offers etc.; other ways for members to interact.

LOBBYING

Lobbying

- EHH is part of the European Commission's expert group on cultural heritage
 - 2 meetings this year
- Networks EHH joined in 2020
 - European Tourism Manifesto alliance - alliance of more than 60 European public and private organisations, covering the whole tourism value chain and beyond to position historic houses as an important component for the tourism industry
 - Meeting in July
- Climate Heritage Network
 - mutual support network of arts, culture and heritage organisations committed to aiding their communities in tackling the negative effects of climate change on cultural heritage

Lobbying

Meeting with S. Verheyen (Chair CULT Committee European Parliament)

- S. Verheyen (SV), Chair CULT Committee EU Parliament
- A. Pallavicini, W. Lobkowicz, E. Oksiuta

SV is a trained architect and therefore understands our sector very much and is very keen to help built heritage. She is very attentive of the risk of financial unsustainability of historic houses and of potential risks in term of regulation to our sector.

Key messages of S. Verheyen:

1. Historic Houses are a key part of Europe's cultural heritage diversity
2. Culture is a key part of Europe's economy in terms of employment (larger than automotive industry), but very atomized and therefore less visible politically
3. Culture is a key part for the attractiveness of tourism in Europe
4. Historic Houses underlined are key to keep employment in rural areas in Europe
5. Historic houses are costly to maintain and complex to renovate. Listed houses should be helped as there is a stricter regulation: financially and with exceptions from the energy efficiency side. She proposed her help to fight potential unrealistic regulations following the Green Deal
6. Is fighting to get 2% of Recovery Fund for Culture and asked us to give her an analysis for our sector of what was done as Covid help in each country
7. EHH believes that our Houses should be seen as part of the "economy" and we should be helped to become financially sustainable to keep historical houses in family ownership. She fears sale and subsequent destruction of heritage assets
8. Horizon 2020 should also help more the Cultural Sector in terms of Digitalization investments. Will put us in contact with Christian Ehler
9. Will schedule a presentation of results of Heritage Houses for Europe study in one of the next CULT plenary meetings
10. Wants to have our proposal for changes of admissions rules to EU programs so that many more houses can get access to the relevant programs

Lobbying

EU building stock renovation policy and private historic houses: FACTS

- Energy efficiency → lower consumption → lower energy bills, environment protection, climate change mitigation, life quality improvement, reduction of EU reliance on external suppliers of oil and gas.
- A EU comprehensive and integrated action to make the building sector more energy-efficient:
 - Benefits at the environmental, economic and social level;
 - Historic houses: schemes of public grants → decisive element to carry out substantial renovations.
- EU current legislative framework: Energy Efficiency Directive (2012) & Energy Performance of Buildings Directive (EPBD) (2010):
 - Energy performance requirements for buildings with exemption (art. 4 EPBD): “Member States may decide not to set or apply the requirements to some categories of buildings, among which are the buildings officially protected as part of a designated environment or because of their special architectural or historical merit, in so far as compliance with certain minimum energy performance requirements would unacceptably alter their character or appearance”;
 - Implementation of national legislative and financial measures to support energy-efficient renovations.
- October 14th, 2020: EU Commission launches its Renovation Wave Strategy under the European Green Deal:
 - Increase renovation rates;
 - Gather experts and stakeholders;
 - Stricter regulations and standards.

Lobbying

EU building stock renovation policy and private historic houses: ACTIONS

- EHH current priorities against possible amendments to the EU legislative framework within the Renovation Wave Strategy:
 - Ensure the exemption clause is not modified → we are teaming up with ELO (European Landowners' Organisation) and UIPI (International Union of Property Owners) to lobby towards the EU Parliament;
 - Propose that the exemption is kept also in relation to a potential CO2 tax or with the CO2 emissions of a building to be assessed only with a holistic view of the entire life of the building itself;
 - Ensure the wording to refer to historic houses contained in the exemption clause is maintained broad as it currently is ("officially protected houses");
 - Ensure existing EU financing schemes are kept or improved;
- Lobbying activity must be carried out also at the national level:
 - Private architectural heritage is not protected in the same way in all EU countries: each Member Association must make sure of what the impact of the new Directives which will follow the Renovation Wave Strategy can be and lobby in advance;
 - Member States will have wide discretion in managing their expenses and EU funds dedicated to energy efficiency improvement.
